

THE  AGE

TUESDAY, JANUARY 29, 2008

epicure

CELEBRATING FOOD & WINE

BITES

Vox pop popular

Bites made lots of friends when this cute little wooden lollipop tree sat on our desk awaiting photography. The vibrant colours reeled them in, while the gasps of delight over the realism of the flavours spread the word, and the queue. The lollipops, in flavours such as strawberry, apple, raspberry, cherry, lemon, orange and blackcurrant, are produced by Barnier, one of France's oldest confectionary houses. They have been imported by Andrew Gray of Raw Materials who was attracted by their fresh, fruity summertime flavour — and no doubt wanted to make a few friends too.

LEANNE TOLRA

Barnier Lollipops, $9.95 for an assorted bag of 10. Stockists include: Ludo, Sandringham; Minimax stores; Annie's Providore, Barwon Heads; V & R Fruiterers, Geelong; and Senserrick's, Keilor.

