GOOD OLD-FASHIONED TREATS

What are biscuits made of? According to Mandy Gray, chief executive officer of Moredough Kitchens, they're made of wonderful childhood memories and tastes that come straight from Grandma's kitchen.

So it's not surprising that this is the inspiration behind Moredough Kitchen's All Things Nice handmade biscuit range.

Consisting of three varieties – cornflake, sugar dusters and choc fudge – Mandy said the range evolved from a desire to give her children the same memories she has of quality treats that they can look forward to.

Each All Things Nice biscuit is individually handmade from quality, natural ingredients.

The range is distributed throughout Australia by Raw Materials.
